

Electrical and Information Engineering Society

The Electrical and Information Engineering Society (EIES) at the Faculty of Engineering, University of Ruhuna supports students through technical events, competitions, and collaborative projects to foster innovation. It connects members with industry professionals, alumni, and IEEE Student branches for career growth while promoting leadership, teamwork, and communication skills.

